

SC PLANNING OFFICIALS TRAINING

Each local government is responsible for arranging 3-hours of continuing education training each year for their staff, planning, zoning, and architectural review officials. In addition, all new board members and staff members must take six hours of orientation training within one year of their appointment or hire date.

The SC Appalachian Council of Governments (ACOG) offers the Municipal Association of South Carolina Orientation Training on DVD. The ACOG also offers continuing education classes during the day and evening.

To register for a course please email the registration form to (vissage@scacog.org). There is a cost of $25 per person for trainings that will be invoiced to your respective community. Please send a copy of your registration to your clerk or staff member who coordinates with you on this so they verify your attendance with the invoice they receive.
